

Home / Wine Travel

Article 50 date set: What to do before Brexit

Chris Mercer
March 21, 2017

18 shares

UK prime minister Theresa May plans to trigger Article 50 on 29 March. Nothing is certain after that point, and it's not as if no one ever crossed the English Channel prior to the EU, but if you're a British wine lover living in the UK then here's a few things that you could try out before the country plunges into Brexit.

Theresa May said that the UK was prepared to leave the single market. Credit: Andrew Linscott / Alamy Stock Photo

TAGS: Brexit and Wine Highlights

Tick off as many EU wine regions as you can

How many wine regions have you visited in the European Union? If your bank account can stand up to the pitiful sterling-euro exchange rate, then you've got 18 months to two years to tick off as many as you can before you might have to consider some form of tourist visa form-filling.

Sail through customs, hire a vintage car with your EU-valid driving licence and hit the road...

Venetsanos Winery in Santorini.

Latest Content

Updated: Tasting notes decoded

In the restaurant: How to complain about your wine — and get the right result

Ageing wine: Double magnum versus bottle

For the weekend: Great value sparkling wines

More Top Content

Promotional feature

Grupo Bodegas Palacio 1894

One of Rioja's most esteemed producers...

Sign up for our daily newsletter

Get news, tastings, travel and competitions straight to your inbox...

Your email address Sign Up

Show More

Follow Decanter on Facebook

Be the first of your friends to like this

Luxury travel: Italian wine ...

Find your travel inspiration with our luxury...

Popular Regions

- Bordeaux
Bordeaux Wines | Wine Reviews
- Champagne
Reviews | News & Articles
- Burgundy
Wine Reviews | News & Articles
- Rioja
Wine Reviews | News & Articles
- Napa
Wine Reviews | News & Articles

Recent Issues